

When we stand where You stand

Written by Rowena Bailey

© 2012 Outreach International

When we stand where You stand
See as You see
Fully taking Your view, we are all we should be
For as we see as You see
Your perspective is clear
Then we love as You love, and there's nothing we fear

So we put self aside
There's no shame and no pride
Having You as our focus, we've nothing to hide
And as we share open lives
By our hearts we are known
Then Your joy is complete, and Your beauty shown